Village Annual Meeting

His Worship Mayor. Wood and the Councillors opened the annual meeting last Friday evening with a small attendance of citizens. The annual meeting as a rule draws a fairly good attendance, but this year only a few came out to hear the report of another year's work by their Mayor and Council. However it is pretty much taken for granted by the absence of the citizens that the affairs of the Village are in good hands, and that the usual steady progress has been maintained in the administration of the Village affairs.

Taking into consideration conditions as they have been throughout Western Canada, Crossfield has made steady progress, never faltering in their obligations, and at the same time carried on substantial improvements from year to year.

The financial statement shows the Village affairs to be in a good healthy condition, with a substantial sum in the bank and all outstanding liabilities paid off.

The outstanding taxes are coming in fairly good in comparison with former years, and it is generally agreed that a big reduction will be made before the end of the present year.

Room 3 Students Visit Print Shop

I wonder if the people of Crossfield realize the amount of work the editor and his staff have every week in order that we may obtain the news of our village and the happenings in the surrounding districts.

We, that is the pupils of Room 3 of the Crossfield School, did not realize either until we visited the Printing Office on Friday afternoon, January 26. The type has to be set, all by hand too, before the news paper is ready for the press which, although by no means up to date, can turn out 500 copies in one hour, that is, if all goes well.

We certainly enjoyed the practical demonstration given by the editor and his staff and we take this opportunity of thanking them for the time they devoted to explaining how the "Crossfield Chronicle" is printed.

Student of Room 3
Crossfield, School.

Ed. Note: We enjoyed having Room 3 visit us and hope that the school students, and anyone interested, will feel free to call in and visit the Chronicle.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

With present world conditions as they are, we feel sure that a good three act comedy, with a trainload of laughs will meet with your hearty approval. To assure all of a side-splitting evening of entertainment, we have chosen the "Wilbur Braun play, "Aunt Tillie Goes to Town", with a cast of eleven players, and published by Samuel French, Toronto. This play will be presented early in March by the Crossfield Dramatic Society, so watch for the date. More next week.

BOARD OF TRADE DANCE

The monthly dance of the Board of Trade last Friday night was well attended by members of the young or set. Owing to other local attractions, there were not so many married couples in attendance as usual. However, financially it was satisfactory. At the lunch hour, Mrs. Warren entertained with some pleasing vocal selections and one of the orchestra members sang a cowboy song which was well received.

The Dominion Election

The sudden decision of the King government to call a general election may to some seem rather hasty, but when you take into consideration the enormous duties a government has to perform, with or without a war, peace and harmony must prevail within the ranks of all if parliament is to perform efficiently. Opposition forces naturally do not like this quick decision for the election, but after all the duties at Ottawa are heavy and why lose time.

The outside irritation echoes recently carried on will, with a general election, cease for the time at least, and give whatever government is elected the opportunity to settle down and proceed with their work.

Worth Considering

We learn that a large percent of the curling enthusiasts have been wondering why a new curling rink could not be built here. The present rink is small and does not give the curling fraternity the scope that is desirable for this district. With a larger rink, the revenue would be increased greatly and the entire setup would be a splendid asset to the community. Before the idea is dropped, every effort should be made to negotiate with Village officials for some scheme whereby a new building could be erected before next curling season.

In a community such as we have, with its fine calibre of citizens, it is only natural that they want to go places and this new rink idea is a good one; it is progressive, and when it comes to progressive ideas any community will do well to lend a listening ear. A meeting of the curlers should be held in the near future to form some plan that could be presented to the Village council for their consideration.

Household Hints

By Betty Barclay

Few of us really appreciate the value of our little friend, the lemon. Oh, we all know about lemon meringue pies and lemonade. We know enough to rush out for lemons when we feel a cold coming on. Perhaps we have learned the value of a lemon rinse for the hair or for bleaching linens.

But we are very lemon wise indeed if we thoroughly appreciate the versatility of this acid fruit, which has a place in every course in the menu and is a flavor-improving companion to many other foods.

Appetizers take on added zest with lemon juice. Fish and meat-acid reaction foods, are dietetically balanced as well as pleasantly flavored by lemon.

With vegetables, natural flavors are enhanced, hidden flavors developed, and subdued or lost flavors retrieved by the use of lemon.

Salads and salad dressings find in lemon an indispensable ally. Many thirst quenchers depend on lemon for flavor. And here's a trick for desserts: Add grated peel as well as juice to pies, cakes and puddings.

Pay more attention to this fruit this year. Try one of the following recipes:

Lemon Chiffon Pudding

Cream:

2 tablespoons flour
3-4 cup sugar
1 tablespoon butter

Add:

2 egg yolks, beaten
1-4 cup lemon juice
1 cup milk

Fold in:

2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
Bake in a 8-inch unbuttered pudding dish or individual custard cups, set in a pan of warm water. Bake 35 minutes in oven 360 to 375 degrees F. Will form a cake top with a layer of custard below.

Celestine Lemon Tapioca

1-4 cup quick cooking tapioca
3-4 cup sugar
1-4 teaspoon salt

2 cups rapidly boiling water
Bring to a brisk boil in upper part of double boiler over direct heat, stirring constantly. Place over boiling water and cook 5 minutes, stirring occasionally. When slightly cool, add:

1-4 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel
Chill. Fold in:
1-2 cup cream, whipped
Serve with maraschino cherry garnish. (Serves 6)

PROMPT AND EFFICIENT SERVICE

DON'T DESTROY FLAVOR

Some time ago I spent a week-end with a very dear friend. At breakfast, a glass of orange juice was placed before me. One sip and the breakfast was spoiled so far as I was concerned.

Questioning carefully, I learned that my friend had reaped this juice the evening before and placed it in the refrigerator so that it would be ice cold for breakfast. It was ice cold, but it was almost flavorless.

Orange juice should be consumed within thirty minutes after it is reamed. Mother Nature's protecting peel will hold the flavor for weeks or months, but the flavor begins to disappear almost as soon as the orange is reamed. Not even a covered container and an ice cold refrigerator will retain this flavor for more than a few minutes.

I told this story as diplomatically as possible to that friend of mine. She tried serving freshly reamed juice from ice cold oranges and one more family quickly learned a lesson.

son that is greatly needed by thousands of women.

"Why it tastes one hundred per cent better" my friend said. "The children now clamor for their morning orange juice."

Now, I could have become real technical and explained that orange juice standing overnight in a covered container will lose approximately ten per cent of its Vitamin C but after all, I was merely trying to teach a friend how to keep from destroying flavor - for flavor is all important at breakfast, and particularly in the first sip that passes your lips.

Many restaurant and hotel chefs and cooks could well learn this simple lesson. Far too often they serve orange juice that has stood for hours.

Don't do it, friends! It destroys the flavor. Let Mother Nature work her magic in the flavor-retaining peel until you are ready to serve your juice. Place the oranges in the refrigerator overnight - not the orange juice.

TOURIST BOOKLETS

First shot in Alberta's 1940 campaign to bring in tourists was fired this week, when arrangements were made for the printing of 50,000 pictorial booklets depicting scenes from Alberta's vacation spots with appropriate descriptive matter were made. The campaign also calls for the publishing of 30,000 information folders and a carefully placed advertising campaign in United States periodicals. The Lands and Mines department is also preparing new highway maps showing all roads leading into Alberta from the States. Twenty thousand of these will be available for tourists.

These booklets will be off the press the end of February, when they will be distributed to travel agencies, automobile associations and chambers of commerce in this country and the United States.

Ten Commandments For Wives

- 1 Honor thine own womanhood that thy days may be long and happy in the home which thy husband provideth for thee.
- 2 Expect not thy husband to give thee as many luxuries as first as thy father hath given thee after years of toil and economy.
- 3 Forget not the virtue of good humor, for verily all that a man hath will be give for a woman's smile.
- 4 Thou shalt not nag.
- 5 Thou shalt coddle thy husband, for verily every man loveth to be fussed over.
- 6 Remember that the frank approval of thy husband is worth more to thee than the sidelong glances of many strange men.
- 7 Forget not the grace of cleanliness and good dressing.
- 8 Permit no one to assure thee that thou art having a hard time of it, neither thy mother nor thy sister nor thy maiden aunt nor any of thy kinsfolk, for the judge will not hold thee guiltless who lettest another disparage her husband.
- 9 Keep thy home with all diligence and it shall become the joy of thine old age.
- 10 Commit thy ways unto the Lord thy God, and thy children will rise up and call thee blessed.

Fish Baked With Lemon

Rub lemon juice over fish to be baked, covering the inside as well as outside. Salt and stuff for not as desired. Put in well-greased pan, dot with butter and bake at moderate temperature until done (about 12 minutes to the pound). Serve garnished with parsley and lemon slices or quarters. These should be large enough, and plentiful enough to provide ample juice for flavor. Fish steaks may be baked in similar fashion. Rub both sides of steak with lemon juice. Broiled or fried fish should also be prepared by rubbing with lemon and served with lemon garnish.

Who Makes Our Friends

I think that God will never send A gift as precious as a friend;
A friend who always understands,
And fills a need as it demands;
A friend who always stands the test
When skies are bright or overcast.
Who sees our faults that merit blame
But keeps on loving just the same;
Who does far more than creeds can do
To make us good, to make us true,
Earth's joys a sweet contentment lend
But only God can make a friend!

DRIVER TRAINING IN ALBERTA SCHOOLS

Adoption of "sportsmanlike driving" courses in Alberta schools is being advocated by the Alberta Motor Association.

The results of this driver training have proved so successful in the United States, where the movement is extending, that it is believed it should be brought into force in this province.

Various centres south of the international boundary have reported that where student training was adopted, ensuring instruction in safe driving, there has been a reduction of as much as 30 per cent in accidents.

During the past year the Calgary branch of the A.M.A. spent some $300 in operating a dual control car for driver training of school students and purchase of necessary booklets.

The Calgary and Edmonton branches also sponsored a series of radio broadcasts which dramatized the need of safe driving and provided full warning of the consequences of reckless or dangerous driving.

Efforts are again being made to have safe driving studies and training introduced into the schools of this province.

UNITED CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Crossfield and district United Church was held in the church parlor on Monday evening. Rev. S. R. Hunt opened the meeting with a devotional service, after which Mr. Stralo, Chairman of the Board, presided. Reports from the various organizations of the church were given, consisting of Sunday School, C. G. I. T. (Junior and Senior Groups), Ladies Aid, Trail Rangers, Young Peoples' Union and Choir, which were all of a satisfactory order. Mr. Hunt also gave an outline of the work of the charge and J. Belshaw, Church Secretary, gave the financial report.

The chairman then reviewed the work of the organizations and the Board and on behalf of the Board thanked the officers of the different organizations for their splendid co-operation during the year. The new parlor was built on the church in the past year, the cost of building and furnishings being around $1060.00. The retiring members of the Board were re-elected, together with Mr. Edlund.

Lunch was served by the Ladies' Aid during the social hour which followed.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. Strange

Certain prominent chemists, in the United States are telling us that the only hope for the farmer is that chemistry may find industrial uses for wheat.

I take leave courteously to differ. I find, for instance, in Boswell's "Journal of a Tour of the Hebrides" that in 1773 Samuel Johnson distributed small parcels of bread made from wheat to the Scottish people in Inverness Shire who had never before tasted wheaten bread, but I note that today the people of Scotland consume large quantities of good bread made from high quality Canadian wheat.

We know there are untold millions of people in the world who have never yet tasted bread made from wheat, but who would certainly like it, if only it were made available to them in exchange for their own goods and products.

My answer then to the chemists is that the remedy for the farm problem is not the industrial use of wheat—which has never yet been economically accomplished—but is rather to open up the clogged channels of trade throughout the world by removing the existing artificial restrictions, all so that hungry people can have and enjoy good wheaten bread. Only then, I believe, will the farm problem be solved. And only then will the world have Peace.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Britain agrees to buy sixty million bushels of Australian wheat and flour—Severe cold wave has swept the U. S. winter wheat belt and damage is thought to be general—Russia is inquiring for Manitoba wheats—Great Britain recently purchased 100,000 tons of Roumanian wheat—Drought conditions are causing anxiety in South Africa crop areas.

Following factors have tended to lower price: Great Britain is buying increasing amounts of frozen meat from Argentina—Rice crop prospects in Philippine Islands very favorable—U. K. recently purchased four or five cargoes U. S. corn—Export and sale of Canadian wheat to Russia has been prohibited—Exports of grain from Canada to neutral countries adjoining Germany are to be licensed and controlled.
